I strongly support the right of any broadcaster to supply information for the public good, such as weather and traffic reporting as part of its broadcast offering. Any attempt to limit this right is clearly in violation of the first ammendment and furthermore in conflict with common sense.